

Clemente Course Application Fall 2024

What is the Clemente Course?

The Bard College Clemente Course in the Humanities is now accepting applications for its 2024–25 session. Now entering its 27th year, the program offers a college-level introduction to the humanities—philosophy, literature, US history, art history, and critical thinking and writing. Students attend at no cost. Tuition and books will be provided. Students who successfully complete the two-semester course will earn 6 college credits from Bard College transferable to any higher educational institution. Students who pursue a third semester in the Bridge program receive an additional 3 credits.

Who qualifies?

You or somebody you know might be the ideal candidate for the Bard College Clemente Course in the Humanities. This national, transition-to-college program provides an introduction to the humanities to anyone coming from a low-income household and who foresees financial or personal difficulty when applying to college or jobs. Applicants must be 16 years of age or older and highly motivated and committed. They do not need a high school degree, but must have the time and desire to attend classes regularly, complete assignments outside of class, and participate fully in the course.

How long is this course and when do classes meet?

This course runs October 3, 2024, through June 3, 2025 (with a two week break between December 19, 2024, and January 13, 2025). Classes will meet every Tuesday and Thursday from 6–8 pm at 7 Grand Street, Kingston, NY 12401. Our first class will be held on Tuesday, October 3.
